Section 9.3 of the Declaration is amended as indicated:

In the event the owner of a unit fails to maintain a unit as required above, the Association, Developer, or any other unit owner, shall have the right to proceed to any appropriate court to seek compliance with the foregoing provisions; or the Association shall have the right to charge the unit owner and the unit for the necessary sums to put the improvements within the unit in good condition, or to take such other lawful steps as may be necessary to remedy the violation. The Association shall have a lien for charges on the unit for any sums of money the Association expends in performing the unit owner's maintenance obligation, and shall have the right to enforce said lien for charges in the same manner for non-payment of assessments as contained in Section 16 of this Declaration and the Florida Condominium Act.

In addition, the Association may levy reasonable fines against a unit for the failure of the owner of the unit to comply with the maintenance provisions set forth above.

No fine may exceed $100.00 per day. However, in the case of a continuing violation, the Association may levy a fine each day. Such fine in no event shall exceed the aggregate of $1,000.00. No fine shall be levied absent notice to and an opportunity to be heard by the unit owner, and no fine will become a lien against a unit. The Association shall be entitled to reasonable costs and attorney's fees for any collection efforts under this section, whether or not a suit is filed.
